Gave and Supported Ambulances During War-Glad to Come Home a Voter.

The White Star liner Adriatic, in last evening from Southampton and Cherpassengers, did not have a glimmer of Atlantic until yesterday, when floods of it brightened ship and voyagers.

After an absence of five years in France Mrs. Henry Symes Lehr returned to pass a month among friends and relatives in New York, Philadelphia and in Newport. An improvement in the health of Mr. Lehr permitted her to come to her native land at this time. He, however, did not accompany her, but went to Vichy to complete his convalescence,

From the pier Mrs. Lehr went to the St. Regis, where she will have an apartment while in New York. She will go to Chestnut Hill, Pa., to be a guest of Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury and then Providence, will go to Newport, where she will be a pect street. guest of Mrs. Elizha Dyer, who also was a passenger on the Adriatic. In August Mrs. Lehr will return to France. "I am glad to come home a voter."

said Mrs. Lehr.
Then you are in sympathy with what American women have achieved in suffrage?" the reporter observed.

'Most emphatically I am," was her re sponse. "And I am sorry that it will not be possible for me to remain long enough to vote, but if that were possible I would be a Republican voter. I regard Senator Harding and Gov. Coolidge as ideal candidates."

Through the war Mrs. Lehr gave a weekly tea, for war charities in her Paris home, 80 Rue de Lille. She contributed and suported an ambulance at the American Ambulance Hospital. She also gave an ambulance to the hospital unit at Verdun, and with other American women living in Parts through those tense days lent herself to the humanitarian necessities of the time.
